By completing the Why Coppin Student Video Contest entry form, you confirm that you have read and agree to abide by the contest rules, that you are the rightful creator of the video and that your video contains original work that does not violate any applicable copyright laws. By completing the entry form, you also confirm that you understand that the video becomes the property of Coppin State University and grants the university the full unrestricted rights to the use of video, including your name(s), photograph(s), voice(s), likeness(es), and biographical information, in any manner or media whatsoever, including edited versions, in audio/video presentations, streaming audio and/or video over the Internet, broadcast, cable, satellite transmissions, and media that are unknown at this time, worldwide for educational marketing purposes.

Completing the entry form also indicates that you understand you will not be paid any compensation and will receive no credit for the video. Coppin State University is not responsible or liable for any claims related to the video entry, such as those related to infringements of intellectual property rights, public dissemination of the video and invasion of privacy, libel or slander. The university is also not responsible for technical hardware or software failures of any kind, for lost or unavailable network connections or for failed, incomplete, garbled or delayed computer transmissions that may limit, or interfere with, a participant's ability to take part in the contest. By participating in the contest, you agree to release and discharge the university, its directors, officers, employees, sponsors, and their agents from all actions, claims and demands arising out of your participation in the contest, the awarding of the prize or the use of any personal information.
