

Minor in Sports Management

Sport Management Programs have expanded to become specialized in both scope and complexity. Modern sport programs have evolved from part-time employment to full-time challenging occupations. Within the scope of a single day's responsibility, the contemporary sport manager may function as a business manager, ticket agent, scheduling consultant, labor negotiator, and goodwill ambassador. Students who minor in Sports Management will be able to meet the challenges and overcome the academic obstacles to achieve their professional goals. Twenty (21) credits beyond the GER are selected from the following courses:
