

FACULTY PROFILE

Ethel Womble, Adjunct Professor

443-520-3229 or 410-744-5477

ewomble@coppin.edu

Ethel Womble, M.A., M.S., CRC, LPC is an Adjunct professor in the Department of Applied Psychology and Rehabilitation Services at Coppin State University.

She teaches graduate courses in Casework/Caseload Management, Internship and Practicum and Introduction to Rehabilitation. She has thirty one years experience as a Rehabilitation Counselor with the Maryland Division of Rehabilitation Services (DORS) with a special interest in dual diagnosis.

Ms. Womble worked with the Department of Labor for five years providing rehabilitation services to increase employment outcome for injured workers.

Ms. Womble is a National Certified Rehabilitation Counselor, Maryland Licensed Professional Counselor, member of National Rehabilitation Association and past President of the Maryland Division.

She holds an M.S. in Education from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and M.A. in Counseling from North Carolina Central University in Durham, North Carolina.