Coppin State hires former Maryland star and WNBA player Laura Harper as women's basketball coach.

Coppin State named former Maryland star and WNBA player Laura Harper its women's basketball coach on Monday.

Harper, a four-year standout with the Terps who was named the 2006 NCAA Final Four Most Outstanding Player after leading the team to a national championship, most recently served as the head coach at Montverde Academy in Florida. "It is a dream come true to be named the new head women's basketball coach at Coppin State University," Harper said in a news release. "I am very thankful for the special opportunity that President Jenkins, Mr. Carter, Mrs. Person and Mrs. Carrington-Johnson have granted me. Having a platform as a woman of color, while coaching at an HBCU during this racially sensitive time in our country, inspires me, and I am beyond ready to help lead this group of committed, young women into a new era of Eagles basketball."
