Dear Eagle Nation:

Coppin State University students, faculty, and staff continue to make differences in an array of areas, and I am pleased to share some campus highlights and things to look forward to:

Coppin to be Featured on Maryland Public Television

Coppin will be featured on Maryland Public Television (MPT) on Tuesday, Dec. 1, at 9:30 p.m as MPT celebrates HBCU Week, featuring Maryland and DC area HBCUs today through Dec. 4.

This will be the first time in its 50-year history, that MPT is launching HBCU Week. The slate of programming is part of the network’s “Standing Against Racism: Fostering Unity Through Dialogue Initiative.”

For CSU, MPT will interview Dr. Mary Owens, CSU dean of graduate studies and National Alumni Association president. I will also be featured. The interviews will air during the breaks in MPT’s encore presentation of Stanley Nelson’s film “Tell Them We Are Rising.”

In 2018, there were 101 HBCUs, with 27 offering doctoral programs, 52 offering master’s programs, 83 offering bachelor’s degree programs, and 38 offering associate degrees. This special week of programming celebrates HBCU institutions’ role in higher education and in society at large.

I encourage you to tune in tomorrow. You can watch on-air or via live stream here.

Virtual Open House

Ever since the pandemic hit, we’ve reimagined a number of events and activities that would normally take place in-person.

We’ve done it again, inviting prospective students and families to CSU’s Virtual Open House entitled: “The Eagles NESTflix & Chill,” launching Dec. 1, at 4 p.m. Viewers will take a journey into “The Eagle’s NEST,” learning about admissions, academics, student and campus life, athletics and more. Live sessions with faculty, staff and students will begin on Dec. 1, at 5 p.m., and will run thru Dec. 3.

To watch the videos, or attend live sessions, please visit coppin.edu/openhouse.

Lastly, thank you for continuing your commitment to keeping our campus safe during these challenging times. Our latest COVID-19 updates can be found here.

Take care, be well, and Go Eagles!
