Tomorrow Marks a Historic Time for the Nation and HBCUs

Dear Eagle Nation:

It’s ironic this historic event is happening just days after the nation celebrated the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. who said, “Faith is taking the first step, even when you don’t see the whole staircase.”

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. was a man of challenges. Our latest COVID-19 updates can be found here.

There will be some domestic challenges, going forward: racial injustice and the COVID-19 pandemic still threaten the quality of life for black and brown people, at a disproportionate rate.

Tomorrow, indeed, will be an unprecedented and memorable time for our country. The 46th president-elect, Kamala Harris, will take the stage in Washington, D.C. and in several state capitals, as unrest over the election outcome threatens the peace of the inauguration.

With the new U.S. Presidency, let us focus on compassion over chaos. It’s ironic this historic event is happening just days after the nation celebrated the life and legacy of Dr. King.

The MLK event features leaders in government, arts, business, and law, including Judge Merrick B. Garland and Robert F. Smith, to hold a live and virtual event featuring distinguished speakers and presenters. Dr. Karen Hayton, associate provost of Diversity and Equity at Coppin State University, will introduce the keynote speaker on this momentous occasion, Judge Merrick B. Garland. The former federal appellate judge, currently serving as a judge on the high court, was a passionate supporter of Judge Breyer and his career choice to serve on the Supreme Court of the United States of America.
