Club Football is the newest addition to the CSU legacy! Show your support and cheer them on during the Homecoming game against Wesley College on October 23 at 1:00PM.
Welcome to the first edition of “The Link”, the quarterly newsletter covering all things the Division of Student Affairs has in store for the students of Coppin State University. Each issue will cover status updates from the various departments that comprise the Division of Student Affairs, along with a few thoughtful articles, event announcements, and student highlights. We are pleased to provide this opportunity for the reader to feel a part of what we do from near and far. We are off to an exciting year, full of opportunities to provide service to others. The University has recruited an outstanding group of new scholars who are eager to become the next generation of leaders produced by this fine institution. The staff within the Division of Student Affairs is excited about the possibilities that await you, and are rallying around you to ensure you are aware of the various support structures in place so that you can continue our long-standing legacy of leadership, service, and engagement. The electronic medium that we have selected for our readership is only one example of our efforts to promote conservation and renewal, and to remain in tune with the ways in which our students reach one another. As a student, you will be able to keep abreast of what is happening on campus at all times, either on your laptop, smart phone, or facebook; “The Link” is here for you. We encourage you to reach out to the Division, submit your ideas, write an article, and serve on a committee; but most importantly become an engaged student.

Again, welcome to “The Link”, and best wishes for a successful educational experience.

Do You Know Your Rights?
Office of Community Standards

To many of you, the Office of Community Standards is an office that does not exist. You have not been able to locate it, you have no idea what they do, and you are not sure anyone works there.

The Office of Community Standards promotes, trains, and educates students about the rights and responsibilities of its members. We not only adjudicate violations of the Student Code of Conduct. We assist students with the student grievance process, giving each member of the community a voice when they have concerns. Many students are unaware of the expectations of the University and do not know policies exist to protect their rights. It is our goal to ensure everyone knows their rights and to support you in becoming a valuable and responsible member of the CSU family.

For a complete guide to the Student Code of Conduct as well as information about a variety of CSU offices, policies, and procedures, refer to your Eagle Guide. First-year students received a complementary CSU flash-drive with the Eagle Guide PDF. Upper-classmen can go online at www.coppin.edu to locate the most current version of the Eagle Guide Student Handbook. Be sure to review your RIGHTS and RESPONSIBILITIES! If you have any questions or concerns, please contact our office.

Welcome Home
Office of Residence Life

Welcome to your “Home away from Home!” In the Office of Residence Life, we offer CSU students the convenience of living on campus so that you can take full advantage of your time at Coppin. You will find that living with a diverse group of individuals, participating in programs and activities, and learning how to live within the guidelines established for the “on-campus community” will provide you with the opportunity to appreciate your rights and responsibilities while growing as an individual.

This August, we welcomed 625 students into Daley and Dedmond Halls. Each student has a Resident Assistant and Resident Director who can fully assist with any of their questions or concerns. Activities are planned by the residence hall staff in each building and cater to your needs and interests. Check with your RA to see what activities are coming up and don’t forget to read your handbook!
