

COPPIN
STATE UNIVERSITY

Coppin is a nurturing environment built in a flourishing city creating an academic oasis.
This is our home. This is our campus. This is our nest.

We are IN the community. We ARE the community.

We take pride in who we are, where we are, and where we plan to be.

We know our history and our legacy are what have allowed us the opportunity to rise and the freedom to soar.

Hand-in-hand we walk as a tight-knit family, with the tradition of excellence running deep in our blood.

Together we survive, we thrive, and we rise.

We invest in our students, who then uplift their families, so that ultimately, we all can empower our neighborhoods.

We believe in academic excellence and big dreams.

We believe in student connection and university pride.

We believe in supporting you – the whole you.

We are the gateway to our great city and the pathway to the future for our students, for our state, and for our nation.

We are ever-growing, ever-changing, and ever becoming. Our story never ends.

An opportunity here awaits you to be a part of this.

So come as you are and let us take you where you dream to be.

We are Eagle Nation. Welcome to Our Community. Are You Ready to Rise with Us?

WE ARE EXCITED TO INVITE YOU IN.

As an HBCU in the twenty-first century, we uplift our students, their families, and communities, through education. We nurture not only their potential as scholars, but as global citizens who can show up wherever they are – unafraid to be authentically themselves. They stand ready to sow seeds of hope into the people they meet and leave the places they go better than they found them.

— Coppin State University President Anthony L. Jenkins, Ph.D.

CAMPUS LIFE

OUR COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

Eagle Nation is comprised of a diverse community of students, faculty, staff, partners, community members, and supporters – from different places across the world and with different lived experiences. We are all united by a common goal to impact and uplift the community we reside in and the communities we leave Coppin to serve.

We are proudly founded as a Historically Black Institution, and since 1900, we have been celebrating our legacy and serving as a champion for diversity and inclusion.

TOGETHER WE STAND AS ONE COPPIN

“Coppin is a Historically Black Institution, but not exclusively Black. Roughly 20 percent of our student population does not identify as Black or African American therefore it is important for all of Eagle Nation to value diversity and inclusion.”

Here at Coppin State, we enroll students that come from 35 different states, including the District of Columbia, and 30 international countries. We are a proud HBCU that educates a multicultural and multigenerational student population. We fight against discrimination. We fight for a more just and equitable society. And we remain committed to nurturing potential and transforming lives through education.”

— Coppin State University President Anthony L. Jenkins, Ph.D.

STUDENT ACCESSIBILITY SERVICES

At Coppin, we work to create an accessible community where students with disabilities have an equal opportunity to fully participate in all aspects of their academic journey. We offer services and programs that promote student independence and ensure students are treated and respected on the basis of ability and not disability.

The Office of Student Accessibility Services ensures that Coppin continues to move toward and thrive in a culture where students of all abilities have equal access to campus-wide opportunities.

RESIDENCE AND HOUSING

A PLACE TO CALL HOME.

Everyone's college experience is different. Part of what makes Coppin so special is that there is space for everyone—and everyone's college experience—to belong. For many students, part of the college experience is living on campus in our residence halls. Built with students in mind, our halls are hubs of activity, programs and support designed to broaden your perspective, set you up for academic and personal success, and provide the space for experiences that enrich your life.

Living on campus at Coppin is a lifestyle. Our residential community helps residents develop and practice valuable skills and attitudes that will help you thrive long after your college journey. This experience regularly presents opportunities you can use to make your Coppin college experience more memorable, more enjoyable, and more successful.

Learn more about our on-campus housing and facilities here.

The Office of Resident Life is responsible for all programming and initiatives in on-campus residence halls. Click here to see how the residence life staff ensures you have access to residential college experiences you'll never forget.
